Why England Is At War

SOME have asked why it was necessary for Britain to go to war over Poland; why not let Europe settle its own affairs? The answer to this is given by Lord Halifax, who on Aug. 24 stated, in the British House of Commons:

"We have tried to make it clear by word and deed that we are prepared to assist those countries which feel their independence immediately threatened, and are ready to defend their freedom . . . that is why we gave our aid to Poland . . . In failing to uphold the liberties of others we run great risks of betraying the principle of liberty itself, and with it our freedom and independence."

AGAIN, Sir Norman Angell, in an article, "Why Britain Is At War," written for the Christian Science Monitor, states:

"That unless we are prepared to defend the law against violence when others are the victims it will be impossible to defend ourselves when we are the victims; that this obligation to defend the weak against the strong is not affected by the fact that the weak may be wrong and the strong right, for if once we admit the right of the stronger party to a dispute to become its judge we launch an anti-social competition for power as the instrument of judgment which must make peace, order, an civilization impossible; that the basis of all civilization, all organized society, is this organization of collective power against violence."

Referring to a debate in the House of Commons, Sir Norman Angell states:

"The issue in that debate was quite simple: On one side were those who argued that Britain's policy should aim at checking aggression as such, anywhere, whether it appeared for the moment Britain was directly concerned or not; the British Commonwealth—a collection of virtually independent states scattered over the whole world—could never be secure if aggressor states could with impunity pick off one by one of Britain's potential allies, until finally it would find itself, in the words of Mr. Winston Churchill, 'facing its fate naked and alone.'"

IT IS the duty of every Canadian citizen to give his full support to the government in its war policy. This week The Journal has been requested to publish statements from two organizations, representing people of foreign birth, who desire to express their loyalty. On the other hand, there are some who have a secret partisanism for Germany, and its oppressive policies on weaker nations. If they found Canada a desirable place in which to live, they should give their unqualified support to its government. Canada has given them privileges which would be absolutely banned in Germany under Nazi rule. It is difficult to understand why people ever left Europe if they give the least countenance to Hitlerian policy.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

BE LOYAL TO YOUR OWN COMMUNITY

Remember that no outsider is going to help you build your town. Every time you give business to an outsider that can be an advantageously placed with your home town firms, you are making the community poorer. It is the local business houses who pay wages to local people, who pay the heaviest taxes, who are called on to subscribe to the various organizations and appeals for help. We admire the customer who gives the home town an even break. There are no little services and accommodations given that no outsider can or will give. Be loyal to your own community—for one good turn deserves another.

YOUR local newspaper stands for a definite policy for progress in all lines of community effort. A newspaper worthy of the name, and to be of use to the community in which it is published, must necessarily express opinions, which the reader may accept or reject. A newspaper without a definite policy, or which does not express opinions for fear it will suffer financially in the loss of advertising revenue, is to be likened to a jellyfish.

Fine New Garage and Service Station

Opened by Sentinel Motors in New Quarters; Rudy Alexander Makes Bid for Bigger Business.

The March of Progress finds a fine new garage on Main street, which will surely attract bigger automobile sales, servicing and repairs. With a staff of skilled mechanics under Rudy Alexander, who has built up a reputation for dependable service to a large circle of Crows' Nest Pass customers, this new establishment will prove an added asset to Coleman's business circles.

The attractive building, in modern style, was built by Contractor D'Appolonia, of Excel Builders Supply Co., and it possesses a very commanding and convenient site on the direct line of traffic. Car sales have increased through Sentinel Motors, and with fine new quarters, Sentinel Motors is equipped for greater business than ever.

The Journal commends the proprietor for his enterprise, and trusts that his venture will prove eminently successful.

Printing An Aid to Business

Yet Many Fail to Grasp Its Significance or Will Not Summon Mental Power Into Action.

Often one hears a retail merchant complain that business is dull or that he is not getting a fair share of local trade. Usually the reason is that he is one of those who instead of aggressively seeking business, by means of the printed word and attractive display windows, thinks he is so well known that he does not need to advertise.

It is a mistaken notion that people will beat a pathway to your door just because they know you. Instances are on record of firms of many years, who, on ceasing their advertising expenditures, were so quickly forgotten that their business just faded away. People may know you, but they buy from stores which advance, through Journal advertising, reasons why they should deal with you.

RED CROSS ORGANIZATION MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

Citizens Will Co-operate in Work of Sacrifice to Help Canada's War Effort

MAYOR PATTINSON and MISS A. YUILL have been requested by the Canadian Red Cross Society to immediately organize, and a Public Meeting will be held in the Council Chamber at 7.30 p.m. on FRIDAY, SEPT. 15, to effect organization. There should be an enthusiastic and wholehearted response by all organizations and individuals to this notice. Everyone can join the Red Cross and help in its humane work to relieve war distress.

It is a duty we must fulfil to those who will need our united help during the war.

Coleman Men Enlisted This Week

Characteristic of that chivalry and love of country which has made the Empire great, the following from Coleman have this week volunteered for military service:

John Lloyd, John Hastings, Fernie Beck, J. Roach Cousins, G. McCulloch, Malcolm Smith, Smith, (no initial) G. Stevens, Don Foster, Ross Foster, Roy Foster (three brothers) F. Cicolone, J. Hirst, G. Kroesing, J. Kroesing, J. Raymond, E. Kennedy, Sid Thomas, Walter Biela, M. Joyce, A. Picon.

There have been others recruited, but a complete list is not available for this issue.

Most have joined the Calgary Highlanders, while a few have joined the Royal Canadian Engineers.

Foss Boulton received a wire from Vancouver on Wednesday stating that Ottawa had accepted ed his short service commission, and instructing him to report to the airport in Calgary. He left by car on Wednesday afternoon for Calgary.

SPECIAL NOTE

Copies of the Journal will be forwarded to all local men who have enlisted, during the time they are away. To ensure delivery, correct addresses should be left at or mailed to the Journal office.

Russ.-Canadians Statement on War Issues

Members Urged to Participate in Struggle to Smash Hitlerism; Defend Canadian Democracy

The Journal has been requested to publish the following, outlining the stand of Russian-Canadians in the war of Germany against Poland, France and Great Britain.

CALL OF THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO THE MEMBERS OF THE RUSSIAN WORKERS' FARMERS' CLUBS AND TO ALL RUSSIAN-CANADIANS

Bestial Fascism has launched a new sanguinary war against the peoples of the world. The world faces a terrible catastrophe, brought about by belligerent German Fascism in the past several years. Millions of victims, dreaded epidemics, starvation and destruction of the whole peoples—such is the misery forced upon mankind by Fascism. Small countries were crushed one by one, by blood-thirsty Fascism. Each new conquest encouraged Fascism to new and greater acts of aggression. The peoples of the world did not and do not desire this slaughter. The forces of the democratic countries are far greater than the forces driving the world to ruin. Undoubtedly, the forces of the democratic countries could have averted war, but the selfish such unity was not fully achieved.

The Russian-Canadians, united around the Russian Workers' Farmers' Clubs, are deeply democratic and have Fascism and its agents within the democratic countries. We have and will carry on the struggle against Fascism. We support the fight of the people of Poland and other countries against German Fascism. The parents and relatives of the majority of the members of our organization live within the borders of Poland, and are directly under the threat of destruction from the hands of Hitler's murderers. Our fathers and brothers of Western White Russia and Volynia will support, along with other nations, the fight of Poland, the struggle of the Polish people against Hitler. These people, three million in number, together with other peoples, will be able to safeguard the independence of Poland. We fully and unreservedly support this fight of our countrymen against Hitler's invasion into Poland, because Hitlerism brings them the blood-thirsty chains of slavery. We support the declaration of Britain and France to defend Poland against Hitler aggression. We greet the Dominion government in its effort to support this fight, and will support its efforts directed towards smashing Hitlerism. This fight is to save humanity from the blood-thirsty aggressors, to save world democracy and our Canadian democratic rights and freedom. The greatest desire of the Russian-Canadians is to see Hitlerism dig a grave for itself in this war. The Russian-Canadians desire to see decisive measures of the Canadian government to eradicate Hitler's agents in Canada, who play the role of spies, saboteurs and provocateurs, undermining the unity of the Canadian people in their struggle against Fascism.

Our organization, and all the Russian-Canadians, have conducted the struggle against Fascism and for the preservation of democratic institutions in Canada. Now, when the aggressors have started the war, the Russian-Canadians, together with the democratic people of Canada, are supporting the military rebuff of the aggressor and his attempts to enslave the democratic peoples of the world.

Being a cultural-educational organization of Russian-Canadians, we will exert all efforts in our work as means to strengthen the front of the democratic forces in the struggle against Fascism, and wish to see our Canada take an honorable place in this struggle, so that an end may be put to Fascist aggression, and peace and friendliness among the peoples be restored.

We call upon the members of our organization to continue the work with greater energy and persistence than before; to co-operate and participate in the struggle to smash Hitlerism, and thus defend Canadian democracy.

Central Executive Committee. Russian Workers' Farmers' Clubs, 1417-17th St. S.E., Calgary, Alberta. September 4th, 1939. MRS. ANNIE URKEWICH.

Nazism Must Go Has No Place in Our Country

(Editorial from The Labour Review, Toronto.)

There is no place for the agents of either Moscow or Berlin in the Canadian economy. Yet the National Socialists—to give them a single name—are everywhere. Nowhere are they more firmly entrenched than in the munitions industries.

In the countries where National Socialism is practised in its several varieties (including Communism and Fascism) there is no freedom of speech or action. The emergency to which the actions of those countries have given rise necessitates consideration of the extent to which such freedom can be afforded their agents and dupes in Canada. France has already cracked down on these enemies within the state. In Paris the anarchist Communist dens are being raided, as were those of the Fascists before them. French workers are tearing up their Communist Party membership cards, but whether they do so through disillusionment or through fear cannot be determined. Like action by Communist Party members in Canada can have no merit: by no such gesture does one renounce the worship of the state, and the same lavish doctrine is being preached by a multitude of agencies. There can be no end to National Socialism in Canada, no security against the big double cross, until those who have been the friends of every country but their own are barred from access to the vital industries.

Coleman Homing Society Closes Season

The Pattinson Cup Won For Second Successive Year by F. Beddington; T. Cornil Won the Fumigalli Cup.

The final pigeon race of the year, the young bird's championship race, with the G. Pattinson cup as the trophy, was flown from Edmonton on Sunday, Sept. 10.

Liberated at 9:15 a.m. in clear weather, but against a strong west wind, the birds put up one of the finest performances of the season, especially so, seeing that the distance was 38 miles farther than the distance flown in any other young birds' championship race in the history of the Coleman club.

The first arrivals, and arriving at the same time, were birds to W. Pryde, A. Biegun and F. Beddington, and so close was the trapping and clocking of the first three birds that only five seconds separated them in the result, which was as follows:

- | | |
|--------------------|--------------|
| 1st, F. Beddington | 17-24-05 |
| 2nd, A. Biegun | 17-24-09 |
| 3rd, W. Pryde | 17-24-11 |
| 4th, T. Cornil | 17-34-58 |
| 5th, W. Roughhead | 17-36-22 |
| 6th, C. Makin | 17-36-28 |
| 7th, J. Claes | 17-40-14 |
| Sub. A. Zurek | Not reported |
- First in the two pools at stake was won by F. Beddington. The seconds going to A. Biegun and J. Claes.
- One bird selected from each loft in this race, with the Fumigalli cup as the trophy, was won by a clear margin by T. Cornil.

Prizes for the race were the G. Pattinson championship cup with miniature, the Fumigalli cup with the first nominated bird, two pools, and five cash prizes for the first five birds, one being donated by Mr. W. Cole, of the Palace theatre, and the four others being put up by the Coleman Homing Society.

This is the last race for the 1939 season, and we thank the prize donors for making our season's sport so enjoyable.

We also wish to thank Mr. Taylor and Mr. George Brown, Coleman C. P. R. staff, for their co-operation in the handling of our birds when in their charge, and particularly for the arrangements they made regarding liberations and reports.—Coleman Homing Society.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The choir at Holy Ghost church, under the direction of Mrs. F. Maurer, is being re-organized for the winter season, and some good tenor and alto voices would be welcomed.

An exceptionally good program was enjoyed at the Palace theatre over the week end. The feature, "Bachelor Mother," created roars of laughter, with Ginger Rogers and David Niven as the principals. The news reels and Sportoscope were also exceptionally good, including scenes of the World's Fair at New York, and scenes in England, showing how the people there are meeting the situation created by the war.

Funeral Service For Robert Parker Yesterday Afternoon

The funeral service for Robert Parker, highly respected Coleman resident whose death is reported on page 4, was held in St. Paul's United Church yesterday afternoon, Rev. H. J. Bevan conducting, in the presence of friends and neighbors.

The minister referred to the frequency with which, as the years pass, people who have lived here for 30 years or more pass from the earthly scene, and how it reminds all that in times of grief we turn to God for solace. Hymns sung were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Nearer My God to Thee." Mr. Emersonson playing the organ.

The pall-bearers were W. Fraser, sr., Arthur Jones, Harry Vincent, George Brown, Dave Robert and W. Hopkins.

Must Trim Our Sails

While other places of similar size report reductions in taxation, Coleman is again showing an increase this year. It is evident that the council and school board will have to devise ways and means of effective reductions, for with increased war taxes, the burden is bearing very heavily on wage earners and others.

A Worthy Cause

The stirring appeal which has been sounding during the past few months for financial support to ensure continued maintenance of Jack Miner's bird sanctuary in Eastern Canada should strike a responsive chord in the breast of every lover of wild life and of every true sportsman on the entire continent.

When it is remembered that Jack Miner, at great personal sacrifice to himself and family, has done pioneer work in bird banding for a long period of years resulting in valuable information which has made conservation of game birds on present day scale possible, it is not too much to suggest that his work is deserving of recognition in a practical way, at least to the extent that will enable the work to be carried on. It would not be going too far afield to state that every sportsman in the United States and Canada owes him a debt beyond calculation.

The banding of ducks and geese by Jack Miner, and in later years by the Biological Survey of Washington, has revealed that there are three migration routes which the birds follow in their annual flights to and from their breeding grounds. One route lies east of the Mississippi, another west of the Mississippi to the Rocky Mountains and the third is along the Pacific Coast, west of the Rockies.

The ducks and geese banded by Jack Miner at Kingsville, Ontario, which is centrally located along the Great Lakes, are practically all reported shot east of the Mississippi with the exception of the odd bird which has strayed across to the western side of that big river.

It has been Jack Miner's sanctuary and his activities at Kingsville that have saved a breeding supply for hunters, and especially those who enjoy their sport in Southern Illinois and the junction of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers and eastward through to Carristuck Sound, Lake Mattamuskeet and other winter quarters.

Benefitted Greatly

The band records compiled by Jack Miner over a long period of years prove that the sportsmen along the Atlantic Coast and in the Eastern United States benefit very little from the activities of the duck or goose population of Western Canada.

The great value of the Jack Miner's bird banding activities is that it has given the people of the United States and Canada indisputable records of the number and percentage of ducks and geese caused for by the famous Canadian bird sanctuary at Kingsville that are shot in the United States.

Jack Miner, as well as many other leading Canadian sportsmen, conservationists and public spirited citizens, feels that the sportsmen of the United States should, without hesitancy support him in a tangible way by raising sufficient funds to enable him to maintain his establishment and carry on his work.

At the present time hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent in Western Canada by Ducks Unlimited, money which is raised in the United States to restore former breeding grounds and establish new ones in Western Canada to raise ducks for the American sportsmen to shoot. If it is possible to raise such large sum among the hunters of the United States for this new project, there should be a few thousand dollars available to assist Jack Miner whose activities have spelled success for nearly half a century.

In the winter of 1933 alone Jack Miner had a floating population of between 25,000 and 50,000 Canada geese for three months in the spring and three months in the fall, that were all fed by him and given a safe haven from the hunter's gun.

Last winter a flock of Canada geese number between 5,000 and 10,000 never entered the United States, remaining at the Kingsville sanctuary all winter. The increase from this flock alone will give the sportsmen of the United States this fall an opportunity to shoot an additional 10,000 to 25,000 geese.

Miner's Fortune Told

With these facts in mind an appeal to American sportsmen to maintain the Jack Miner sanctuary should not fall on deaf ears.

The result of close contact with Jack Miner and his work over a period of many years, contributions can be assured that any assistance which can be given will not only be gladly accepted but will be expended to the greatest possible advantage. Jack Miner himself has spent his entire personal fortune on this work and has contributed his own time and that of his family to this great cause.

In a recent announcement it was pointed out that cheques should be made payable personally to Jack Miner, Kingsville, Ontario, and it was stated that to those who wish to secure a statement of actual financial conditions before large amounts are contributed, a sworn statement of the bank handling the account at Kingsville will be mailed.

Quality Is Impaired

Story From Switzerland Confirms Report About German War Weapons

Switzerland produces most of her own guns, and it is reported that her anti-tank infantry gun is one of the most effective pieces of defensive machinery yet produced. Swiss papers reported an amusing incident recently which seems to confirm the report that Germany's dearth of raw material has seriously impaired the quality of her manufactures.

Not long ago, so goes the tale, the Swiss Army wished to place an order for a number of German tanks and several tanks were brought to Switzerland for demonstration. The German tank crews were so sure of their wares that they offered to remain in their machines during the trials, but the Swiss officers refused.

When the tests were over the tanks were literally torn apart, to the relief of the German officers who had so narrowly escaped with their lives.—New York Post.

Improve Farm Land

145 Million Acres In West To Benefit By Rehabilitation Work

The area coming under the provisions of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act covers approximately 105 million acres of land in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Within this area there are approximately 47,000,000 acres of improved farm land, representing about 55 per cent. of the total improved acreage of farm land in Canada. In addition the area constitutes the most important single agricultural district in the Dominion and one of the major regions of the world for the production of wheat and other cereal crops.

FRUIT FILLED BREAKFAST RING

2½ cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2½ teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons sugar
5 tablespoons butter or other shortening
1 egg, slightly beaten
7 tablespoons milk
Melted butter
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup chopped walnut meats
½ cup seedless raisins
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and milk; add all at once to flour mixture and stir until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and knead 20 seconds. Roll into oblong sheet, ¼ inch thick; brush with melted butter and sprinkle with mixture of brown sugar, cinnamon, nuts, raisins, and orange rind. Roll as for jelly roll; bring edges together to form ring and place on ungreased baking sheet. With scissors, cut 1 inch slices, almost through ring, turning each slice cut-side up and pointing outer edges. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Remove to cake rack and while hot spread with glaze made by combining 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar and two tablespoons milk (about). Serve warm or cold.

Story About Herr Goebbels And Schoolboy Worth Repeating

Goebbels was paying a visit to a public school in order to see how his propaganda was affecting the youth of the country. He asked a small boy to quote from memory some patriotic greeting. The child replied: "Heil Hitler." "Quite right," said Herr Goebbels, "but there are other slogans. A second boy piped up: "Deutschland über Alles."

"Fine, fine," said Goebbels, "but there are even more impressive ones." Whereupon the smallest boy in the class contributed: "Our people shall go on for ever." "Bravo," said Goebbels, "that's very good indeed! What's your name?" And the boy answered: "Isaac Levy."—Nehelepalter, Rorschach.

No Koala Bear Skins Are Being Exported From Australia

The Australian Press Union says publicly given in the United States to Australia's lovable native bear, the koala, caused a demand for coats made from their skins and this led to reports that koala were being illegally killed here and their skins exported.

The Chief Secretary (Mr. Bailey) caused inquiries to be made and these revealed that the skins being used were exported in 1927 when, during an open season in Queensland, 600,000 were obtained by trappers. Since then the koala has been rigidly protected.

Most Japanese live largely upon vegetables and fish. Such a diet is necessary not merely because of the difference in customs but because of the natural circumstances in which they are placed, as the land fit for the cultivation of foodstuffs is limited.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Miss Alma Hedburg, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hedberg, for four years on the International office staff, will be married this month to Mr. Gilbert Hoyle, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hoyle.

Harbert Nash LeRoy and Eloise Manuel, both of Pentiction, were married last week at Trail, where the bride's mother lives. The bride had been on the nursing staff of Pentiction hospital for three years. The bridegroom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. LeRoy, of Pentiction. On Monday they visited Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Halliwell and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Pattinson, on their way back to Pentiction after a motor tour of Glacier and Waterton Park.

"DON'T FORGET IRRADIATED CARNATION MILK"

Canada Officially Enters War Against Nazi Germany

Ottawa.—Canada officially entered the war against Nazi Germany when the government gave effect to the almost-unanimous will of parliament.

For the first time in history, the senior Dominion of the British Commonwealth, on its own account and by its own will, exercised the most awesome prerogative of nationhood by declaring a state of war. In 1914, the government merely published the British war proclamation.

Just 13 hours after the House of Commons signified its approval of the government's proposal to throw Canadian men and resources into war for the second time in 25 years, a royal proclamation was issued by Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general, on authority of King George VI, announcing a state of war with Germany exists.

Parliament expressed its will late at the special session by adopting the address in reply to the speech from the throne, traditional method of giving approval to general government policies.

Previously Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the house adoption of the address would give the government authority to declare a state of war.

The special session now will consider necessary legislation and imposition of new taxes and vote money for Canada's war effort. The prime minister gave notice that the commons would be asked to go into committee of ways and means to consider taxes and into committee of supply for appropriation of funds.

In the emergency it is expected a bill known as the war appropriation bill will be introduced and by passing it the house will vote a lump sum to the government for prosecuting the war until parliament meets again in regular session. Reports say it will provide around $100,000,000.

Every political party represented in the house rallied to support of the government in its war policy. Conservatives under Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion gave unquestioning support.

Elevated To Peerage

Sir Thomas Inskip Has Been Honoured By King George

London.—The King elevated Sir Thomas Inskip to the peerage following his appointment as lord chancellor—a post that makes him speaker of the house of lords and head of the English judicial system.

Sir Thomas took the title of Viscount Caidstone of Britain. His new post is within the cabinet but outside the war cabinet of nine members which Prime Minister Chamberlain has set up.

His elevation to the peerage leaves vacant the House of Commons seat for Farnham, Hampshire. He is a Conservative, aged 63.

Takes Up War Duties

London.—The Duchess of Kent, the first member of the royal family to volunteer for war service, has taken up her tasks. At present she is preparing bandages and splints in a suburban hospital.

Western Wheat Crop Is Estimated To Be Greatest Since 1928

Winnipeg.—Western Canada's 1939 wheat crop is estimated at 451,672,170 bushels in the final crop report of the Winnipeg Free Press. The yield, if it is realized, will bulge western bins with the greatest harvest since 1928 when 566,000,000 bushels were taken from prairie farms.

Despite the torrid temperatures of July which brought belief the wheat would not fill, the report added, sufficient threshing has been completed to show that damage in most districts was not nearly as severe as had been feared.

In Manitoba, where a yield of 18.6 bushels to the acre is estimated, the total of more than 89,000,000 bushels is forecast. The expected yield would give the province its highest total since the disastrous rust epidemic of 1916 caused farmers to turn to other crops than wheat.

A few points on the southern and western borders report poor yields but in other parts of Manitoba good returns are indicated.

With an average yield of 16.5 bushels an acre on a large acreage,

Leakage Of News

Change That German Minister To Elze Conveys Information To Germany

Belfast.—Thomas Gibson Henderson asserted in the House of Commons that defence information from a number of sources was being conveyed to the German minister to Elze at Dublin and transmitted to Germany. He said:

"I took cognizance of that fact and immediately communicated with authorities at Westminster (London) to put a halt to it as early as possible."

Henderson, a member of the house from Belfast, said that statements made in commons and in the Belfast corporation on air raid protection and other matters had been conveyed to the German minister and by him to Germany almost immediately.

"I don't think the minister should remain there," he said. "If the south of Ireland were in the Empire they would remove that man immediately from Dublin."

"Let the Empire see that they are with us. While they have a German minister at Dublin anything that might be said will be conveyed to Germany."

Keeping Close Watch

Turkey Would Act If Italy Joins Germany In War

Istanbul.—Competent circles said Turkey, faithful to its alliance with Great Britain and France, would maintain an "attitude of expectation" with a close watch on Italy.

It was emphatic in its protest. Turkey would not immediately should Italy show signs of joining Germany in the European war. Parliament has been called for the normal date.

The Turkish-German trade agreement, which expired Aug. 31, is not being renewed. It was said, because Germany failed to deliver military supplies as payment for Turkish goods.

Interned In Britain

A Total Of 500 Have Been Held Since Start Of War

London.—The Daily Mail said four members of an organization known as "The Link" are among 120 foreign residents of Britain interned in the London district.

"The Link," denounced recently as "an instrument of the German propaganda service" by Sir Samuel Hoare, the home secretary, was ostensibly an organization to promote Anglo-German friendship.

The Daily Mail said a total of 500 persons have been interned throughout Great Britain since the beginning of the war.

High River, Alta.—Plans to launch a province-wide drive for $25,000 to purchase a military aeroplane for use of the Dominion government are being pushed by the High River branch of the Canadian Legion.

Work On Planes

United States Aircraft Factories To Complete Orders For Britain And France

New York.—United States aircraft factories continued work on 600 planes ordered by France, England and Australia. Aircraft circles said no stoppage was indicated in work on between $45,000,000 and $50,000,000 of foreign orders for planes and parts, because of invocation of the Neutrality Act.

It was said that although shipments of the finished planes abroad is cancelled by the neutrality laws, plant makers are protected. Their contracts with France, Britain and Australia specify that in event the laws hold up shipment abroad, delivery of the finished planes can be made in the United States. In this way, payment to the aircraft companies for the planes will be made in the same manner as if shipment abroad could be continued.

Montreal Recruits

Montreal.—More than 2,000 would-be recruits have been received by Montreal's two large French-speaking infantry regiments during the last 10 days, officers of the units, Les Fusiliers Mont-Royal and Le Regiment de Maisonneuve, said.

The report says Alberta producers, their fields averaging 18.3 bushels an acre, are harvesting a slightly heavier crop than in 1928. It is estimated the yield will reach 154,000,000 bushels.

Yields are lowest on the eastern border but only three points report less than 10 bushels to the acre, indicating a well distributed crop. The grade of western Canada's new wheat is "surprisingly good in view of growing conditions and broken harvesting weather."

"Most of the wheat threshed in Manitoba is falling within the three top No. 1 grades. A large proportion of Saskatchewan wheat is expected to grade from one to four northern with one and two northern predominating. Early threshing returns in Alberta also indicate that the new crop will be of high quality."

Bombing Insurance

Rates Are Offered For The Maritime Provinces And Quebec

Ottawa.—Insurance agents are quoting a rate of 75 cents per $100 for "bombardment insurance" in the maritime provinces and Quebec on advice from Lloyd's of London. It was learned. The insurance covers risk of damage to buildings and other property from war hazards, such as shelling, bombing from the air and sabotage.

So far as could be learned no rate has been established for districts in Canada, farther west than the province of Quebec.

At the same time local agents were advised that the rate prevailing under war conditions for marine insurance between Canadian and United Kingdom ports, Dunkirk, Gibraltar and ports in Norway, north of Bergen, via the northern route, is five per cent. ($5 per $100 of insurance).

The highest rate quoted, 7 1/2 per cent, prevails on shipments to and from other parts of the continent of Europe to ports on the Mediterranean, Black and Marmara seas and to the East and Far East by way of the Mediterranean.

A rate of one per cent is quoted on shipments to Australia, the East and Far East by way of the Panama canal and across the Pacific.

North American coastwise shipments and shipments to central America and the West Indies are surmountable at one-half of one per cent, and a rate of one quarter of one per cent, applies to shipments from North America to Newfoundland.

Poland to-day is the sixth ranking power in Europe in population and area, but it is one of the poorest in possessions. For 1,000 years Poland has staged a struggle for independence and a country of its own, and every time the Germans and Russia joined together Poland has been destroyed. In 1667, Poland was a great nation, stretching from the Baltic Sea to Crimea, included Danzig, the Corridor and Silesia, Latvia, the Ukraine and a large slice of present Russia. By 1772, Germany and Russia divided Poland, giving a share to Austria. One-fourth the territory of the nation was taken. The next year they took two-thirds of what was left. Despite this, the Polish nation survived until 1796. Then Russia and Germany took the rest. Poland was re-established after the World War.

Ralston In Cabinet

To Assume Portfolio Of Minister Of Finance

Ottawa.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King moved to strengthen his war-time cabinet when he gave the finance portfolio to Lt.-Col. J. L. Ralston, K.C., 58-year-old Montreal lawyer, distinguished war veteran and former minister of national defence.

At the same time the prime minister accepted the resignation of Hon. Charles Dunning, finance minister since the present government was formed in 1935, who announced his retirement some weeks ago because of ill-health. Mr. Dunning said then he had definitely retired from politics but his resignation was not accepted at once.

Col. Ralston was sworn in by Lord Tweedsmuir.

Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national revenue, has been acting finance minister since Mr. Dunning's retirement.

Formal announcement of Col. Ralston's appointment was made by the prime minister after a cabinet council.

Smuts Forms Cabinet

Union Of South Africa Declares War On Germany

London.—The ministry of information announced that the Union of South Africa had declared a state of war with Germany.

Measures were immediately taken to effect recall of the South African and German diplomatic representatives from the respective capitals, the communiqué said.

The proclamation was issued by Prime Minister Jan Smuts, who formed a cabinet after the downfall of Premier J. B. M. Hertzog.

General Smuts, in forming his ministry, retained the portfolios of external affairs and national defence.

Vatican City Writer Is Held By Italian Secret Political Police

Rome.—Professor Guido Gomella, editorial writer for the Vatican City newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, has been arrested by the Italian secret political police.

The arrest followed a series of articles on the European situation which appeared in L'Osservatore over his initials.

One of these said "England and France affirm particularly the principle of honor in maintaining obligations assumed toward Poland and in general the principle of independence and security of small nations as against the policy of larger nations, as for example against the affirmation of supremacy."

Sir Frederick Banting, Co-discoverer Of Insulin, Enlists As Captain

Toronto.—Sir Frederick Banting, professor of medical research in the University of Toronto and co-discoverer of insulin, has enlisted as captain in the 15th General Hospital, Canadian Army Medical Corps, it was learned.

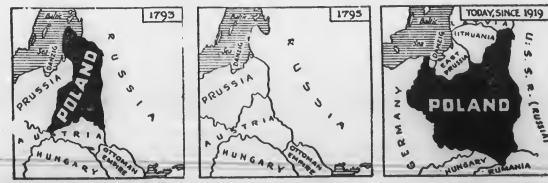

Sir Frederick enlisted as a private in the field ambulance during the Great War and rose to a lieutenant in the Canadian Army Medical Corps. He was wounded at Cambrai, where he won the Military Cross.

Operating As Usual

Ottawa.—Trans-Canada air lines will continue to operate its mail and passenger service from Montreal to points.

Vancouver despite the war crisis, it was learned at the transport department. A spokesman said there will be no interruption of the airlines and no other use is being planned for the planes or pilots.

POLAND FIGHTS FOR HER EXISTENCE ONCE MORE

Canada Will Stand Shoulder To Shoulder With Britain In War

Ottawa.—Canada will stand shoulder to shoulder with Great Britain in the war against Nazi Germany, find another government, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons.

The prime minister said that his government believes conscription for overseas service would not be necessary or effective, adding:

"No such measure will be introduced by the present administration." Conforming to his settled policy of leaving the issue of Canadian participation in war to parliament, the prime minister outlined his policy and asked the house to support him in it.

"It is the house will not support us in these policies it will have to find another government," he declared.

He gave no indication he had any doubt of the decision of the house, and was greeted with applause from all sides. A few minutes before the house heard Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, declare himself for participation in the war and pledge his support to the government in its policies.

John Blackmore, Social Credit leader, bespoke his party's wish to give full Canadian support to Great Britain. But J. S. Woodsword, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, was not in agreement, although he said he spoke for himself and not his party.

"I cannot give my consent to anything that will drag us into another war," Mr. Woodsword declared.

While endorsing Canadian participation in the war, Mr. Blackmore demanded conscription of wealth, industry and manpower.

Dr. Manion asserted that Canada's best defence in the struggle now beginning was an overseas offensive.

He said there is no doubt that Canada actually is at war and urged the government "to declare openly and clearly our position."

The dispatch of a general expeditionary force to open battlefields is a matter for future consideration, Mr. Mackenzie King indicated. Canada's immediate war-like steps will be the defence of Canadian territory.

French Forces Carry

Fight To German

Soil On West Front

Paris. A French communiqué said that German forces are moving up reinforcements to the western front where French troops were reported feeling their way forward along the fringes of the Saar basin "no man's land."

The report said they are moving forward against flanking fire from advance lines guarding the shallow valleys leading to the main Siegfried line fortification of the Reich.

The French general staff communiqué No. 8 said:

"On the front between the Rhine and the Moselle the enemy is being reinforced in front of us. Observers report the arrival of new forces coming from the interior of Germany."

The French were said to have carried the fighting into German territory in an effort to divert German troops from the eastern (Polish) front, where, reports reaching Paris said, Nazi advances have been as deep as 60 and 70 miles at some points.

Military observers in Paris said the heaviest Franco-German fighting apparently is between the small French city of Bitche, near France's frontier with Germany, and the Moselle river to the north. Bitche nestles at the base of a fortified hill. A French force was said to have fought its way into the German forest of Bienwald, just north of Lauterbourg. Although the reported advance was slight and has not been specifically mentioned in a communiqué, observers here regarded it as a sign the fighting is spreading.

The wooded Bienwald forest spreads between the Lauter river and the Siegfried line to a depth of five or six miles.

The French advance into Germany is believed to have begun out on an irregular curve bulging out near Luxembourg and flattening back near Bitche.

This whole area, on the German side, is fortified only by light trenches, temporary positions in advance of the Siegfried line. North of Karlsruhe, the German main line of fortifications lies several miles behind the frontier.

Indications from the terse French military communiqués were that as soon as large raiding parties had consolidated their positions on the French side at the frontier, the order was given for an advance on similar positions across the boundary.

Announcement of the arrival of British forces in France and of conferences between Major-General Sir Edmund Ironside, chief of the British imperial general staff, and General Maurice Gustave Gamelin, commander of all French forces, were regarded generally as meaning British Tommies are being moved to the frontier.

Gamelin, slated to be commander-in-chief of the combined British and French land forces, is assumed to have consulted on plans for joint action.

The "No Man's Land" between the Siegfried and French Maginot lines is considerably narrower there and the German advance lines are more strongly entrenched.

An artillery duel was said to be continuing from Lauterbourg south with the French bombarding German strongholds guarding the southern route across Germany.

and nearby British territory, such as Newfoundland, co-operation in some measures aimed at Germany, and the furnishing of arms and supplies to Great Britain.

Canadian armies, however, may enter the fray at once. They will probably be the first Canadian fighters to see active service.

"The information we have obtained," said Mr. Mackenzie King, "indicated that the most immediate and effective further means of co-operation would be a rapid expansion of our training and of air and naval facilities and the despatch of trained air personnel. These measures we propose to institute immediately."

For drama and gravity, the day will long stand out in Canadian parliamentary history. A full attendance of members and hundreds of gallery spectators heard Mr. Mackenzie King declare the forces of evil and the forces of good in the world are renewing their age-old conflict and Canada must be on the side of the forces of good.

Not a little of the drama was provided by the personality of the prime minister. A life-long advocate of peace and goodwill was leading a nation into war. A man who for years has urged moderation of speech in regard to other nations now denounced the leader of Nazi Germany in unsparring terms.

The prime minister recalled his previous efforts to promote goodwill in both industrial and international relations and said he never thought it would fall to his lot to take the action now demanded by him by the turn in events.

"That responsibility I take with a sense of being sure to the blood that is in my veins," he declared.

He joined with Dr. Manion in a plea for toleration of the honest views of all Canadians, and bespoke as well toleration for the German people. As one who knew both Germans well, he declared the war was not against them but against the tyrannical regime which held them in slavery.

Death Came Unexpectedly to Robert Parker

Had Worked Here for Many Years—Came From Durham
County, England, in 1907.

On Sunday morning at the Miners hospital Mr. Robert Parker, 62 years, died after an illness of about two weeks. The end came quite unexpectedly. He was born at Tow-Law, Durham county and came to Edmonton, in 1907, later to Coleman, where he worked for some time for the late Contractor Disney. For many years he worked for International Coal Co., up till illness caused him to go into hospital.

He leaves to mourn his death his wife, formerly Miss Hannah Ableson, to whom he was married at Blairmore in 1920, and several sisters and a brother in England.

Of a quiet disposition, he was well liked, and his passing arouses sympathy for his wife and relatives.

Former Coleman Dentist Died at Macleod

Last week's Macleod Gazette reported the death of Dr. Owen Frederick Franck, well known and highly esteemed dentist, on Sept. 3. He was 67 years of age, and had practised in Macleod since 1918, when he moved there from Coleman, where he has lived for about six years. He is well remembered here by earlier residents, and quite frequently members of the Masonic lodges in the Pass towns met him at their gatherings.

The funeral was held on Sept. 5, Rev. A. E. Larke conducting, with the Macleod Masonic lodge conducting the graveside ceremony. Besides his widow, he leaves a son, Jack, at Yellowknife, N.W.T., and a daughter, Anna. He had taken an active interest in community affairs, having served on the council and school board, and also as president of the Board of Trade. He was born at North Augusta, Ont., and was educated at Brockville, Ont., and Northwestern University.

Boys of The Old Brigade

Among them is Mike Joyce, who despite being over military age, volunteered his services for the present war. Mike figured he could still do his bit in some useful capacity, but just at present recruiting officers figure there are plenty of young men available, so Mike will have to bottle up his militaristic ardor for later on, if the war continues.

Recruiting in the Pass towns this week was in charge of Major J. M. Taylor, Sergeant R. J. Downie and Private M. B. Wood, of the Calgary Highlanders. The killed soldiers excited keen interest among the younger folks, to whom war's alarms are a new experience.

Remember the Red Cross meeting on Friday at 7.30 p.m. in the council chamber.

Sunday at St. Alban's Church Service at St. Alban's on Sunday will be held at 7 p.m. Rev. John R. Hague attended a special meeting of the clergy of the Diocese of Calgary this week. It is reported that a number of the single men among the clergy will probably be volunteering for active service, and it will result in changes being made in some parishes.

Four Coleman Men Accepted as Recruits

Four Coleman men enlisted last Friday when they passed the medical examination at Blairmore. J. Roach Cousins, John Lloyd, John Hastings and Fernie Beck being the men accepted. The latter three have joined the Calgary Highlanders while Cousins has joined the Royal Engineers.

Several other local men were rejected the reasons being poor eyesight, underweight and age. The accepted men left on Tuesday for Calgary where they are encamped at the Armory grounds.

Do Not Read This if You Borrow Neighbor's Paper

The editor of The Wiarnton Echo, who by the way is a very clever woman, Mrs. A. E. Duncan, has been making a drive to collect outstanding subscriptions. In the last issue she related some of her experiences, which were quite similar to those of other weekly editors. She says:

"It is surprising what tales we hear. One woman, who has been a subscriber for years had through no fault of her own, got behind. She came in to talk the matter over and said: 'Three of my neighbors borrow The Echo from me every week and they all have more money than I have.' She told us who they were and we smiled when we heard of one for he cancelled his subscription because he received a bill when it was overdue. Ho, hum, there is one satisfaction and that is they all read it—whether they pay or not. A weekly paper is like a wife—every man should have one of his own."

The Importance Of Steam Coal

COAL is a vital necessity for industrial purposes and it must be of a high standard to meet competition of foreign coal and substitutes for coal. It has ever been the aim of these mines to place on the market the highest grade free from impurities. This can only be done by the use of the most modern cleaning machinery and careful inspection of all coal mined.

INTERNATIONAL and MCGILLIVRAY COALS have established a nation-wide reputation for efficiency for railroad and industrial use. This has been accomplished by determination to produce only THE BEST.

Czecho-Slovak People Affirm Loyalty to Allies

Pass Resolutions to Stand Loyal by and Support War Efforts Against Germany

The National Alliance of Slovaks, Czechs and Carpathians in the Crows Nest Pass, with locals throughout Canada, headed by the former president of Czecho-Slovakia, Dr. E. Benes, hereby makes the following announcement to the people of Canada:

That we, the Czecho-Slovak people, organized under the National Alliance, are in every way loyal citizens to our new country, Canada; and will to the best of our ability donate to, encourage and foster the ideals and liberties we are now privileged to enjoy under His Majesty, King George VI. in the Dominion of Canada.

Also it is our wish that by doing our part as loyal citizens, we may help to bring back freedom and democratic rights to the former Czecho-Slovak Republic.

In fairness to the people of Czecho-Slovakia, we do not wish them to be misunderstood in this war of Germany on Poland. In this crisis the Slovak people, now under German Nazi oppression are being forced into this conflict by the ruthless iron heel of Germany.

Therefore, as loyal citizens of Canada and supporters of British ideals of freedom and democracy, we pledge ourselves to the upholding and defending of our freedom and rights of our King and Country.

Signed by the following officers of the National Alliance of Slovaks, Czechs and Carpathians.

Signed: Steve Leosky, Louis Bubniak, A. Kalivoda.

Czecho-Slovak People Declare Allegiance

Rt. Hon. Wm. McKenzie King, Premier of the Dominion of Canada.

Sir:

All Czecho-Slovak People organized in the National Alliance of Slovaks, Czechs and Carpathians, declare that they are loyal to their Canadian homeland and will support Canada with all their power in her present struggle for humanity and righteousness.

We want to fulfill our duties as Canadian Citizens and feel that while fighting for the Canadian liberty and democracy we fight also for the liberation of our own nation and for the re-establishment of the Czecho-Slovak Republic.

We refuse the malicious lie by which Germany declares the war against Poland in the name of the Slovaks.

The so-called Independent Slovakia is only a fraud by which Germany disguises its violent and illegal occupation of our country.

We beg you, Sir, to accept this manifestation of our loyalty and allegiance to Canada and to the British Empire and we offer you our devoted services.

The National Alliance of Slovaks, Czechs, and Carpathians.

Steve Rudinsky, Chairman

K. Brecka, Secretary

Effective Advertising in The Bulletin

Recently there was advertised some electric light fixtures which were enquired for by a large number of Bulletin readers. The party who advertised them said he wished he had a hundred, he could have sold them all.

Another party advertised some school books, and in a very short time following the delivery of The Bulletin to the homes, enquiries began to come to the office. There must have been over thirty enquiries. If you have something people want, the quickest way to let them know is through The Journal and The Bulletin, for advertising in these papers is not an expense, it is a revenue-producer.

Joke On The Firemen

Detroit Squad Found Fire Not So Easy To Start

The Highland Park fire department at Detroit agrees to a man that it is much easier to put out a fire than to start one—and not nearly so embarrassing.

Recently the fire department turned out almost en masse to demonstrate how quickly it could extinguish 1,000 gallons of blazing oil. Firemen were eager to show a large crowd that their work was even more efficient than that of the police, who had just finished capturing a "bandit" (one of their own members) in short order.

A firebrand was tossed into the pit of oil. A flame flickered momentarily but died out as the firemen, poised with hoses, prepared for action. Another firebrand was tossed on the oil, and still another, but the oil remained unignited. Then the chief poured gasoline on the oil, but still no fire.

Not to be outdone entirely, the firemen decided to show off their pumping equipment. The engine was rolled into place and the hose turned on. The result was a shower for the cheering spectators.

A SLIM AND SPRIGHTLY STYLE

By Anne Adams

Your figure won't hold much "weight" in the eyes of your admiring public when you wear this slimming dress. For Anne Adams has skillfully created Pattern 4197 as THE perfect style for matronly women who want to look young and trim. That double panel down the front is both slenderizing and flattering. See how it breaks into merry scallops from yoke to waist. Soft flowers, lace edging here and there will make it even gayer. Take careful notice of the daintier back view, with the double panel, yoke, and the nice shoulder yoke. Make the sleeves elbow-length, or try the new three-quarter style. Either is smart!

Pattern 4197 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3 1/2 yards 38 inch fabric and 3 1/2 yards lace edging. Send twenty cents (20¢ in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send order to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Tribute To The Horse

One Animal Which Is Always Man's Affectionate Friend
Finest tribute to the horse, is paid by the Ottawa Journal: "There is something extraordinarily human about a horse; something wistful, whimsical, loyal; something altogether lovable. It is the explanation perhaps of the truth that from time immemorial the horse has been one of the great stars of man in peace and in war; the one animal which, with the dog, has been his affectionate companion."

Good Excuse Anyway

The foreman after reprimanding the workman for being late, asked the reason.

"Well, you see, we had a terrible fire at our house," the workman replied.

"Oh, that's different. Why did you not say so at first? How did it begin?"

"Well, that was all the trouble. It wouldn't go at all. The wood was wet!"

For Farm School

The Toronto Daily Star said it was reported in business circles the $1,300,000 "Maryvale" estate of the late Senator Frank P. O'Connor will be used as a Roman Catholic farm and school. "Maryvale," situated a few miles north of Toronto, was the home of the wealthy chocolate manufacturer, who died Aug. 21. 2324

Not Very Speedy

Without Mechanical Aid Man Is Something Of A Stomper

Six miles a minute? Why, almost no time ago "a mile a minute" was the speed limit of human comprehension. Lickety-bridle, lickety-cut, lickety-split and a mile a minute were all the same. Sixty miles an hour still is a dangerous speed and above highway speed laws; yet the quiet British business man John Cobb has driven an automobile 370.75 miles an hour on the first of two beautiful, whistling runs along the black line of a 15-mile straightaway at the Bonneville Salt Flats, in blistering Utah. This was just four days after his countryman Sir Malcolm Campbell drove a motorboat 142.85 m.p.h. at Conston, England. Maybe the Red Queen was right: "Nearly there! Why, we passed it ten minutes ago!"

Aside from congratulations for Mr. Cobb and Mr. Campbell, the record runs of the Raiton Red Lion and Bluebird II (what a genius the British have for names!) succeed in bringing human beings nearer the speed of their lesser evolutionary fellows who go with their own power at speeds man has not yet approached. The deer botfly, for instance, has been clocked in excess of 800 m.p.h. a velocity higher than the velocity of sound. Chimney swifts have been repeatedly timed at about 200 m.p.h. and as migrant birds swifts have been observed to cover 1,500 miles in about seven hours. Airplanes can do this or better, of course but no automobile or other land conveyance has been devised capable of keeping up such a rate of speed for such a time.

Ab Jenkins drove (again at the Bonneville Salt Flats) an incredible 2,000 miles at 168 m.p.h. An airplane did 575 m.p.h. in a free drive last January at Buffalo; an Italian named Agallo flew 440 m.p.h. over a three-kilometer course in level flight five years ago. But Cunningham ran a mile in less than four minutes and Jesse Owens sprinted only 100 yards in a bit more than nine seconds. By itself the human being is pretty much a slowpoke.—New York Herald Tribune.

Saskatoon Resident Gets A Letter By Tin Can Mail

R. H. Trickey of Saskatoon has received an interesting stamp cover from the Tonga Islands celebrating the 20th anniversary of the accession of Queen Charlotte.

It came via "tin can mail" from Nukunono Islands and bears a 2½d postage stamp with a picture of Queen Charlotte beside her throne. Mail from the island is placed in a can, sealed with solder and taken by natives in a canoe to the steamer which waits a mile from shore. Then it goes to New Zealand by boat and to England by airplane of Canada by steamship.

Reverse side of the cover is stamped "via tin can mail" in four languages other than English.

Too Much Idle Money

Iowa Bank Closed Doors Although It Is Solvent

Because no one wants to borrow money, the savings bank at Booneville, Iowa, has closed its doors. The bank has $267,000 in deposits, is solvent, but it can't make any money paying out 2 1/2 per cent. interest to depositors and letting the cash lie idle in its vaults.

In a letter to the depositors announcing the closing, the bank, in business for 33 years, said "the principal reason for quitting is that we do not know what to do with your money."

Assumes Responsibility

Roderick Stuart Kennedy, B.S.A.

The announcement that Roderick Stuart Kennedy, B.S.A., has been appointed Editor-in-Chief of the Family Herald and Weekly Star gains importance from the internal and external stresses to which Canada is subject, and which are often felt most acutely in the farming and rural sections. The Editor of the only completely national farm magazine in the Dominion has a unique responsibility as a reconciler of sectional interests, an interpreter of diverse aspirations, and an influence towards Canadian unity. Mr. Kennedy who was born in Montreal, schooled in England, worked on farms in Eastern and Western Canada, and who has travelled widely throughout the rural parts of Canada, should have that broad vision of Canada as a nation, and as a member of the British Commonwealth which these difficult times demand.

Following his graduation in Agriculture from Macdonald College, (McGill) in 1912, Mr. Kennedy was in the short time Assistant Superintendent of the Lacombe Experimental Farm, following which he joined his father in farming a section near the same town. In 1914 he joined the C.E.F., and after his discharge on account of wounds was in charge of Vocational Training of Disabled Soldiers in the Ottawa District until he joined the Family Herald and Weekly Star as Promotion Manager in 1922.

Journalism is in his blood, his father having been editor of the London Times Edition, and before that City Editor of the old Montreal Witness and War Correspondent during the Riel Rebellion. His own articles, stories and book reviews have appeared in many Canadian and United States publications in recent years, and he has, appropriately enough, been for a long time an active member of both the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists and the Canadian Authors' Association.

Wrote Beautiful Story

Blind Girl Won First Prize In Nation-Wide Contest

Eighteen-year-old Marion J. Anderson lives in a world of perpetual darkness. Yet the blind Seattle girl's rich mind conceived a story of a butterfly and so glowingly put it down on paper it won first place in a nationwide contest.

The story, a fairy-tale entitled "How the Butterfly Got Its Name," was selected as best in a short story competition conducted by the Braille Searchlight Magazine, published in New York.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SEPTEMBER 17

MICAH: A MESSENGER OF SOCIAL SERVICE

Golden text: What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God? Micah 6:8.
Lesson: Micah 3:1-12; 6:6-8.
Devotional reading: Psalm 50:1-8, 14, 15.

Explanations and Comments

An Indictment of Unjust Rulers and False Prophets, Micah 3:1-12. The proper question is: Is it not your duty, you princes, to know and practice justice? But you hate the good and love the evil. You are extortioners in your demands, are cruelly oppressing your people. The figure is that of a cannibal feast; the nobles are sitting around the cauldron in which food is being prepared, casting in the skin and the flesh of the people whom they have set to rule. "In the sight of God ignorant barbarians who killed their foes in battle and lived on their flesh were less guilty than so-called cultured classes who feasted on the blood of God's suffering poor."

The Divine Conception of the Religion, Micah 6:6-8. In the first five chapters the prophet, in a burst of oratorical passion, declares that Jehovah will condemn, or plead the figure is that of a complainant at court) with the people before the mountains as judges, and represent Jehovah as inquiring the reason of his people's unfaithfulness, at the same time recalling what he had done for them in the past. Micah next represents the people as asking what Jehovah expects from them—what was that acceptable worship with what present shall they come and bow before him? Moses had made provision for this: there were the sacrifices, sun-offerings, trespass-offerings, burnt-offerings, heave-offerings, and there were priests appointed to approach God on behalf of his people and to make atonement for their sins. But those means do not satisfy the prophet. Although burnt-offerings of year-old calves were choice gifts (Lev. 9:3), they would not suffice. Will Jehovah have regard to quantity as well as quality, will he be pleased with thousands of rams, with ten thousands of rivers of oil? No amount of offerings is an adequate atonement.

To do justly does not refer to legal justice nor to conventional justice, but to the righteousness of God, the justice in the Parable of the Laborer who gave the same wage to the man who, through no fault of his own, had worked but one hour, as he gave to those who had worked through the burden and heat of the day, did not do so justly according to legal or conventional ideas. Justice must be reinforced by kindness, and justice and kindness must be reinforced by a humble walk with God. God requires nothing more and nothing less from those who would please him than that they should live their religion.

Travels in Luxury

Texas Broker's Pullman Bus Is Like First Class Hotel

When B. V. Christie, a broker of Houston, Texas, goes travelling, he wants all the comforts of home, and incidentally he wants to be paid, because he owns a $33,000 pullman bus that contains all the luxuries of a first class hotel.

When the streamlined, 33 feet long bus pulled up at the Table Rock House, in Queen Victoria Park, Niagara Falls, Ont., it immediately became the centre of attention. Many visitors flocked around the green and buff colored vehicle, completely forgetting about the Horsehoe Falls in the background.

Christie is entertaining a party of 12 on a tour across the United States, and this was his first stop over in Canada. He was on his way to the New York World's Fair.

At first sight, the interior of the bus looks like a railway pullman car of the latest design. First comes a kitchenette behind the driver's seat. In the kitchen is a small gas stove, electric refrigerator, and a hot water heating tank. Then comes the sitting room which can be changed into a bed room when needed. In the centre is a baggage room and a modern bath room, equipped with a shower.

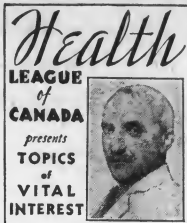

The room at the rear of the vehicle is known as the lounge room. It is equipped with radio and modern air conditioning.

Passengers may sit in the lounge and read a secondary instrument panel which is a duplicate of the dashboard at the front of the bus. In this way passengers may know the speed of the bus without moving from their comfortable seats.

The huge bus will travel eighty miles an hour and gets about five and a half miles to the gallon of gas.

Mr. Christie, the owner, spends much of his time travelling about in his bus, which is also equipped with a private telephone and 1,000 feet of cable so that he may attach it to any telephone connection and keep constantly in touch with his office.

Folding like a suitcase, a portable printing outfit has been invented for making photographic copies of tracings, drawings and manuscripts on special sensitized paper in a few minutes.

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

by DR. J. W. S. McCULLOUGH

INTERESTING THE PUBLIC IN HEALTH

The world's fair, the national exhibition, the county fair—all are media through which public education is carried on. In Canada, one of the best means adopted by the Health League of Canada to interest the public in health is to present an annual display at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

This year, through the generous co-operation of the Exhibition authorities, a more attractive display than ever before has been made possible for Canada's health education agency.

The exhibit has been designed to impress upon visitors various phases of health work. One large section is devoted to the need for the pasteurization of milk. Another section is devoted to the various activities of the Health League, attention being drawn in a spectacular manner to such topics as diphtheria and its prevention by toxoid, venereal diseases and their control, artificial refrigeration and periodic health examinations to reduce the toll of cancer, heart disease and other causes of death.

An important point stressed by the Health League exhibit is the enormous cost of illness in Canada, half of which is preventable.

Editorial Note: Readers desiring the complete set of Dr. McCullough's cancer articles at once may secure same by writing to: The Health League of Canada, 103 Bond St., Toronto, Ont.

Not Only One Thing

But Many Which Younger Generations Have Never Seen

Elhel Barrymore approves of the little theatre movement because it gives an opportunity to young people who have never before seen a stage performance. This may surprise some of the older generation, or residents of larger cities which have for eight months to a year of the legitimate drama, musical reviews. Thousands of towns have had no professional stage performances since movies rose into the ascendancy 25 years ago.

Yes, and there are thousands of members of the younger generation in city and country who, to whom an automobile is commonplace, but who have never ridden on a train. And think of the millions of youngsters who never saw mother or grandmother wear a gathered gingham apron!—Christian Science Monitor.

Railroad Worker Visited Sick Friend In Express Way

For 10 days Pat Shiner, 61, a railroad yard employee, reminded himself to call on N. A. When attendants put him to bed in a hospital the first person he saw was Nelson—in the next bed.

Large Power Sled

Talking about sleds may be a little premature, but the Miller company of Fond du Lac, Wis., believes it has turned out the largest ever. It's 80 feet long and weighs more than 9,000 pounds. It will be used by an Alaskan mining company. Power will be supplied by a Diesel engine.

THE RIVER OF SKULLS

Deep in the night a 19-foot Petro-boro canoe slipped from the shadow-packed shore below the darkened buildings of the Hudson's Bay post, rode the ebb tide down to the river mouth, and turned north up the coast.

As the northwest wind drove the ice-pack toward the bald buttresses of the Cape of the Four Winds and the canoe raced the broken ice-past its granite feet, the pursuing York boat appeared in the distance. It was a three-day's race. But the frail canoe, driven by its desperate crew, reached Whale River, while high and dry on a mud flat, the York boat waited for the next tide to float it free.

Delicious Recipe for Vanilla Cream Pudding

Note: If dessert are to be turned into stomachic and deeply chilled, Durham's Corn Starch may be reduced to 3 1/2 tablespoons, to insure great delivery.

Combine 5 1/2 tablespoons Durham Corn Starch very thoroughly with 4 1/2 tablespoons granulated sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Slowly stir in 3 cups hot milk; return to double boiler and stir and cook until mixture thickens. Cover and cook, with occasional stirring, until no raw flavor remains. Remove from heat and add 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Cook slightly and turn into wet moulds or serving glasses. If chilled, this dessert may be unmoulded. Serve cold with fruit (fresh, stewed or canned), if desired, or accompany by Bee Hive Golden Corn Syrup or cream, plain or whipped. For coconut pudding, add shredded coconut to dessert and top with toasted coconut. Six servings. D12 all with McQueen. The Sergeant's sure, now you met this McCord and he's going back with you to the headwaters."

"You're a fool, Alan, to put yourself under suspicion of protecting a murderer!" added Duncan McNab. "The police can make it hot for you—take you down to the railroad and put you on trial."

Alan's good nature had returned. He smiled indulgently, displaying his strong white teeth. "It's 400 miles to the headwaters. Noel and I'll be glad to show the police the way. If that's all they want. Won't we, Noel? As for our meeting anybody up there last winter—that's nonsense."

"Well, I wouldn't be in your shoes for a good deal!" snapped Christie. "By the by," he continued, after a period of silence, "a Canadian Airways plane came in a few days ago bringing the mail from Moore, and there's a passenger who is waiting to Nab, whose red face was widening in awe you."

"A passenger—to see me?" Alan stared at the speaker. "Aye, and she's kicked up more rumpus in old Fort George than I've seen since the measles killed half our people."

"She?" what could a woman from the "outside" want with Alan Cameron? he wondered. "Yes, a woman. She's thick as peas with the police. Has something to do with their trip here. I take it. But she won't talk to the other women about it. She's holding the plane until she sees you."

On his way to Gabriel Dessane's house, Alan stopped to see his friend Pierre and learn if the Dessanes were still at supper. Opening the door of the trade-room, to his surprise he saw Arzene Rivard in close conversation with a woman whose Norfolk jacket, short skirt and high laced boots marked her as a stranger at Fort George. As he entered he caught her remark:

"He must have met—"

"Hello, Rivard!" said Alan, enjoying the embarrassment of the two. "Pierre's over at his house, I suppose?"

"You're right!" cried Alan. "That's a seaplane—one of the Canadian Airways, I'll bet! The Northern Trading Company, you know, found a lot of iron and copper on the Nastapokas. Gabriel says what they're after is gold, though."

At the Hudson's Bay Company, when Alan had locked Rough and his priceless paddles in the small dog stockade behind his house, he was greeted by the sober faces of Duncan McNab and Andrew Christie, the factor.

"Well, young man," snapped Christie, "you seem to have made a fine mess of things!"

Alan stiffened as he met Christie's disgusted look, alert to avoid being caught off his guard by what was coming.

"Why, I was thinking," parried Alan, keeping his temper, "that Noel and I had made a pretty good trip up the coast."

"Pretty good trip," stormed the trader. "I'd say a pretty bad trip for you, Alan Cameron. Why, your father's turn over in his grave if he knew what you've been up to!"

Blood darkened Alan's wind-burned face but he forced a smile as he replied: "When you see the three pups I got at the Nastapokas you'll agree—"

"Your starting north the night after—" you the police had hired a York boat proves you wanted to see Neel, before the police reached him."

Alan's face went stone hard. "Well, he told them where I got that money, didn't he?"

"Yes, but the police don't believe him!"

"Do you?" demanded Cameron, a glitter in his gray eyes.

"I've got to believe Neel Campbell, I suppose, but he didn't help you at

"Why, 'allo, Cameron!" The tone of the clerk was very cordial as he left the woman, who leaned gracefully against the trade-counter, calmly inspecting the handsome young voyageur, from his moccasins to the deep-set twinkling gray eyes.

"Mrs. Hanbury, I would make you acquainted with Alan Cameron," said the clerk turning to the woman.

So this is the woman who has upset Fort George, he thought. She seemed hardly more than 35, with a tall, graceful figure set off by the whiplash suit. Her face, framed by wavy brown hair, was the face of a girl, except for the hazel eyes, long lashed and large. The eyes were unmistakably those of a woman who had seen much.

"May I speak to Mr. Cameron alone?" she asked of Rivard. "Certainly, Madame," replied the clerk with an insinuating smile as he left the trade-room.

"Mr. Cameron, are you out of your mind?"

Alan laughed. Folding his muscular arms across his chest he calmly met the handsome eyes that searched his.

"I may be, I never had much mind," he answered, trying.

"You're playing a dangerous game," she became suddenly dramatic, "when you start to work against the Provincial Police."

He had once read of a woman detective in a book in the post library. Could this woman be a government detective?

"How have I worked against the police," she asked, disarming, "by telling the truth, Madame?"

She burst into a paroxysm of laughter that did not fail to display the whiteness and regularity of her teeth. Drying her eyes with a handkerchief that filled the air with a subtle perfume, she said, standing very close to the uncomfortable Alan: "Why, you poor boy, do you suppose they don't know you're lying?"

"Excuse me, Mrs. Hanbury, I don't know who you are," he said, the dark dawning his bronzed face. "What right have you to ask me questions?"

She opened her large eyes with their long-lashed lids in amazement. "They didn't tell you—that at the Hudson's Bay?"

"Not a word—except that you were here and wanted to see me."

"That's strange! I'm connected with the government, you know—spies, agents, I don't know. On another matter and wanted to have a look at the East Coast. Knowing Sergeant McQueen and Corporal Slade, of course I was interested in their search for this McCord whom you met in the interior last winter."

"I did not meet McCord last winter!"

The cold glitter in the gray eyes had a decided effect on Mrs. Hanbury's manner. She suddenly dropped her air of easy confidence.

"When they get John McCord," she went on, dramatically, ignoring his flat denial, "do you realize that you will be tried for aiding an escaped murderer? Now, I promise you that if you'll tell me where you met this man and the girl—what you know about them, I'll square this whole thing with the police." Again she approached too closely for Alan's comfort as her black-lashed hazel eyes narrowed. "It's going to go hard for you if you don't, for McCord will take you down to the Deputy Commissioner at the railroad for questioning."

The conversation was interrupted by the return of Gabriel Dessane from his supper. Harassed by the certainty of being compelled to accompany the police to the headwaters, by doubt and misgivings which the mysterious Mrs. Hanbury aroused, Alan went over to the factor's house. Received coldly by Madame Dessane, he found Berthe waiting.

"You have found her very agreeable, to talk so long in the traderoom?" she asked, giving him a lifeless hand.

"Arzene told you then? So you think that woman—"

"I don't know what she thought. Good-night, Alan!" And she left the room.

ENTERTAIN ON OUTINGS WITH CLEVER FORTUNES

Consult the Mystic Circle!

A problem to keep friends entertained? Not if you remember that everyone loves to have his fortune told! And a never failing fun starter is the Mystic Circle fortune, played with dice.

Simply chalk a ring on the board—or cut out a round piece of cardboard—and into this "fateful" circle have the fortune-seeker toss three dice. Then add the numbers on the tops of the dice.

A throw of seven? An ancient rhyme tells the fortune, "Seven, adventure that leads afar." And on it goes, giving the meaning for every number thrown:

"Eleven, know with deceitful heart. Twelve, a letter; 'twill joy impart." Or how would you like to tell card fortunes? Easy to learn the meanings of the cards. Here are a few to start with. The Four of Spades promises business success, the Six of Diamonds, a gift. The Three of Hearts hints of love problems.

How to shuffle, deal the cards for fortunes? Find full instructions and meanings of each card in our 32-page booklet. Has the complete rhyme for "Mystic Circle" tells how to read fortunes in dominoes, tea leaves, horoscopes, gives fortune games for parties.

Treasure Tomb

Discovery Of Rare Importance Is Made In England

The full story of what is now shown to be the greatest archaeological discovery of recent times has been revealed in a typewritten statement issued in the peaceful Suffolk town of Woodbridge.

It describes in detail the treasures—objects of gold and silver, many studded with diamonds and other precious stones—found in the 1,400-years-old royal "funeral-ship" buried on a hilltop at Sutton Hoo, near Woodbridge.

The statement is drawn up by C. W. Phillips, Fellow of Selwyn College, Cambridge, who has been supervising the excavations for the Office of Works in London.

He emphasizes that the highest importance is attached to the discovery because this is the first time any ship burial, found in either Britain or Scandinavia, had not been plundered.

These riches of Anglo-Saxon England uncovered by the excavations, which arms, chain mail, jewels and clothing.

They mark a discovery far more important than the most sanguine hopes of the archaeologists and scientists who have been eagerly awaiting news of the finds, it is stated.

They have brought across the centuries a wealth of well-preserved articles of beauty and domestic use such as probably has been equaled only by the tomb of King Tut-Ankh Amen in Egypt.

They almost certainly belonged to a member of a ruling family in the little known days of Anglo-Saxon England. It is possible that this was the grave of King Raedwald, nicknamed "Raedwald the Cautious" because he is believed to have followed Christianity and Paganism at the same time.

Arzene scratched in Runic letters on the back of one of the golden objects is to be the subject of the most searching examination.

The solid gold ornaments of the dead man's belt are so heavy that they could have been made only for a man of great physical strength, while a lovely silver salver three feet across is such that only a strong man could have carried it.

Armour played in the tomb for the dead man's journey over the Sea of the Dead is elaborate and ornate. There is a large iron sword with a pommel and handgrip studded with gold and gems. Then there are the remains of an iron helmet, a bronze faceplate cast to represent a nose, mouth and moustache. This also was decorated with thin gold and silver. The fall of the burial chamber unfortunately shattered the sword and helmet.

Also found in the tomb were the remains of elaborately decorated shields and an iron axe with a long handle and heavily decorated suit of chain-mail. There were also bunches of spears of various types.

But at the spot where the body apparently lay were found the great treasures of the ancient jeweller's art, including the massive gold buckle, armlets of solid gold, gold ingots and ancient coins.

A Real Difference

Between What You Have And What You Are Worth

The Edinburgh Dispatch says W. Gallacher, the M.P. for West Fife, caused laughter in the British House of Commons by referring to an occasion when Mr. G. B. Shaw had to take the oath in order to testify to the qualifications for standing bail.

"The Magistrate," he stated, "said to Mr. Shaw, 'Are you worth £200?'"

Mr. Shaw cocked his head slightly to the side and said, "Well, I won't say that, but I have got £200."
